

Cross-border

The frameworks behind international claims.

Cross-border motor claims. Zero border friction.

A motor accident across borders can quickly become complex. Different countries have different laws, insurers, languages and procedures. Van Ameyde helps insurers manage this complexity. As European leader in claims handling, we handle more than 75,000 cross-border motor claims every year with local expertise and one clear reporting line.

International motor claims follow clear frameworks. The Green Card system and the 4th EU Motor Insurance Directive make sure claims can be handled across countries. These frameworks define how insurers, National Bureau and local representatives work together. Understanding these rules is essential for handling claims quickly and correctly.

Your trusted partner for cross-border claims

Van Ameyde works within this system as a trusted partner for insurers. Our offices across Europe combine local knowledge with central coordination. This means claims can be managed locally while clients keep one clear overview. It reduces delays, improves communication and ensures compliance with local regulations.

For insurers and corporate clients, the outcome is simple: clear processes, faster claims handling and full transparency throughout the claims process. With 80 years of experience and the ECHO claims management platform, Van Ameyde helps clients manage cross-border claims efficiently. Because when claims cross borders, clarity and reliability matter.
